Mr. and Mrs. John Berinato of 155 Brook street are the parents of a son, born to them Tuesday, Dec. 7. The child weighed 10 pounds at birth.

Mrs. E. L. Densmore returned yesterday from Hartford, where she had been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Humphrey the last 10 days. Mr. Humphrey picked strawberry blossoms and buds in his garden yesterday, Dec. 13.

Miss Jessie Morgan entertained the members of her junior dancing class at an informal dance in Howland hall last evening, when nearly thirty young people came together. At intermission refreshments of punch and wafers were served.

Troop 2 of the Congregational boys scouts joined in an arduous hike Saturday afternoon under the leadership of the scout master. Heading due east, the youngsters trekked through Edgewood and over the hills in the direction of Perkinsville. Several of the second class tests were applied by the scout master and passed by the boys.

Vincitia club and the Apollo club of Montpelier are to meet in Barre to-night for the first of a series of four tournaments in pool, billiards, chess and whist. A buffet luncheon will be served.

Harry L. Ellenwood of Brookfield and Mrs. Jessie Bruns of Burlington are at the home of Mrs. Lucy D. Ellenwood in South Barre, having been summoned there by the death of Charles T. Ellenwood.

Funeral services for Charles T. Ellenwood, who died Sunday, are to be held at his home to-morrow afternoon at 1 o'clock. Through inadvertence, the name of his wife, Mrs. Lucy (Day) Ellenwood, was omitted from the list of surviving relatives as printed yesterday.

W. G. Turner, head chef at Hotel Barre, who is taking a month's vacation from his duties, has gone to his former home in North Bucksport, Me., for a visit with relatives. Mr. Turner expects to return to Barre in January and during his absence J. W. Whidden, an up-to-date chef from Springfield, Mass., has been engaged for the hotel.

When one set of trucks on a south-bound street car essayed the Washington street track, while the rear trucks hugged the main line late yesterday afternoon, there was a short-lived tie-up on the B. & M. T. & P. Co's trolley road. By exercising due diligence, the car men were able to assemble the trucks without summoning help from the car barn.

Among the visitors in the city yesterday and to-day were the following people: H. H. Lane of Springfield, Warren R. Austin of St. Albans, Carl C. Hamblot of Barton, C. C. Murray and T. R. Waterman of Burlington, Miss Grace Cheney of Washington, James E. Brown of Keene, N. H., H. C. Roth of Athol, Mass., S. G. Kent of Philadelphia, G. E. McCarthy of Boston, G. E. Lead better of Boston, George W. Felt of Rutland, F. A. Agar of New York, Edward Sinclair of Gloucester, Mass., O. M. Kennedy of Fair Haven and R. J. Dolc of Lunenburg.

Owing it is alleged, to the dilatory attitude of counsel for the defense, the case of State vs. Mary John, charged with selling intoxicating liquor illegally, did not come to trial in city court this morning. When notice was served on the prosecuting attorney that the respondent's attorney expected to be elsewhere, the announcement was anything but welcome, but as has been the case oftentimes in the past, a second postponement was ordered. Magistrate Scott stated that a jury would be drawn this afternoon at 3 o'clock in anticipation of a hearing to-morrow that will not be subject to any of the trifling delays occasioned by counsel.

Routine business, with only one or two matters of major importance will be considered by the board of aldermen at the regular meeting this evening. It is expected that a report on the streets where sliding is to be restricted this winter will be made, as it has been customary in years past to reserve a certain number of street hills where snowing was permitted. Indeed, winter sports may have the way in the earlier part of the season, as skaters of all ages around the city are becoming clamorous for the free skating rinks that proved so popular last year. Although no appropriation has been authorized, it is believed that municipal rinks will be built at North Barre, in the south end and at Gosport Village.

SOUTH BARRE.

South Barre grange will hold a dinner in their hall Thursday evening, Dec. 16. Curly's orchestra. Admission, 50c per couple. Ladies free.—adv.
